Attention: There are fines of up to 250 EUR if you forget to apply for this “Anmeldebescheinigung”.

BANK ACCOUNT: If you don't have an Austrian bank account yet, please open one. It makes no difference which bank you choose, but some banks offer special conditions for people here at the University – just ask the bank assistants.

In the main library you will have to have activated your math library access.

PROJECT PROPOSALS: if you plan to submit an application for research funds, please inform Peter Kritzer (room 466) in due time. Research documentation, talks

RESEARCH DOCUMENTATION (AKADEMIS)

Always keep your research documentation in the Akademis system up to date! This is very important. <https://akademis.oeaw.ac.at/akademis/>

TALKS: Talks at RICAM are announced in the weekly newsletter, on the website <http://www.ricam.oeaw.ac.at/news-events/events/> and on the info board. The talks are structured in three groups:

Radon-Colloquia:

In these talks, prominent external scientists can present overviews over important fields dedicated also to non-specialists. All RICAM employees are expected to attend these colloquia.

Radon Seminars:

In these talks, new RICAM employees and external visitors present work which is of interest for at least 2 groups at RICAM. The talks can be a bit more specialized, but should be understandable for other groups. Therefore they should be attended by all RICAM employees.

An additional format of Radon-Seminars are “group presentations” (to learn more about the work of other groups and to facilitate cooperations between groups). They are organized by post-docs (in accordance with the group leader) and have workshop style (informal, questions encouraged). Group presentations have the following format: 1 hour per group and more than 1 speaker per group. 1 introductory talk (30 min) presenting the basics of the field for a general math audience and 1 or 2 research oriented talks (30 min total) building on the introductory talk, but still for a general math audience.

Group Seminars:

These are specialized talks by internal and external scientists intended mostly for members of the organizing group(s), although, of course, members of other groups are also welcome.

Talk announcements:

Requests for talk announcements should be sent (at the latest 3 days before the talk) to office@ricam.oeaw.ac.at. Please let us know which kind of talk should be announced.

Miscellaneous

MAIL: In the secretariat there is an incoming mail-box for you. Please check regularly if you have mail. If you have outgoing mail, just take it to our office and put it into the “outgoing mail box” (just across the entrance). Please, no private mail and applications.

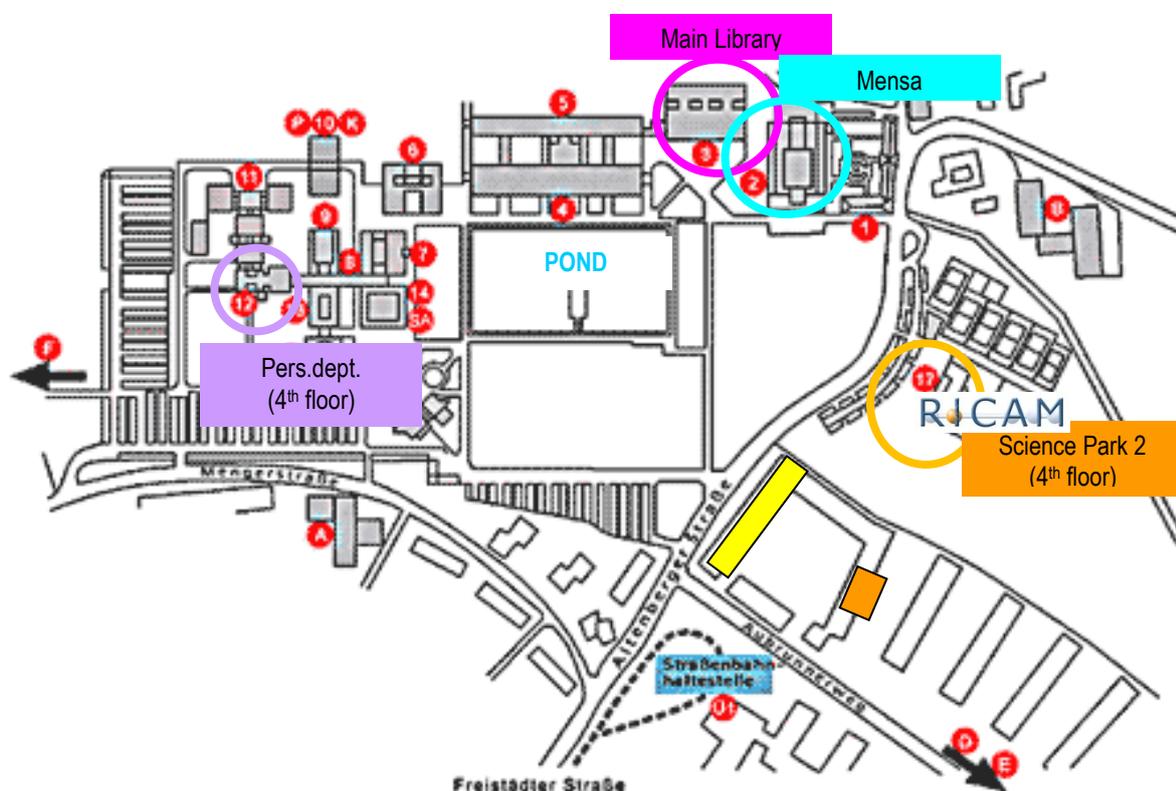

PHONE: Please no private phone calls! Even for business calls you should use Skype in order to avoid high telephone bills. The institute gets a list of telephone costs for each single telephone set. PhD students have to ask their project leader for access to an office telephone.

OFFICE SUPPLIES: Just help yourself (at the secretariat) when you need office equipment (ring binder, pencil, CDs, ...). If anything is missing, just let us know.

BOOKS: If you cannot find a book in the library or there is a book you need because you work with it all the time, you can order it via the secretariat or you can buy it on your own and ask for reimbursement. Please inform us when you take a book, we have to update the location in our database.
